HISTORY OF SENIOR CLASS

The present senior class entered high school in the year of 1942 with an enrollment of twelve boys and eighteen girls. Five of the twelve boys, Mack Haney, Claude Jones, Ernest Montgomery, Louis Powers, and Thomas Rogers, served in some branch of the military service.

Eight of the eighteen girls, Lila Rae Allen, Edna Brock, Carrie Lee Ethridge, Dora Jewell Kennedy, Robbie Lee Rodgers, Naomi Stanfill, Wilma Stanfill, had quit school before we entered the senior year.

Three of our outstanding former classmates, Jean Goff, Atha Creasy, and Ila Ray Wallace, are now going to other schools and are supposed to graduate this year.

The senior class of this year, 1946, had on roll at the beginning of the year six girls, Marcella Curry, Sue Scott, Delphia Thompson, Raymell White, Vernell White, and Burma Sue Pierce, now wife of John Rogers, and four boys, Willard Gurley, Victor Clemons, Curtis McPeake, who by some means became discouraged and quit school at the close of the first semester, and Howard Mitchell, who returned from the army after having served eighteen months, six months overseas. We have enjoyed his being with us and we owe him much for that which he has so courageously done.

We, the seniors, wish to those who were not so fortunate to finish school, the best of success and a life of happiness.

We, the seniors of the year of 1946, hope to have accomplished something that will, now and in the future, be of some benefit to us.

A Brief History

Just before the turn of the century a boy named George Brasher influenced a master teacher, B. A. Tucker by name to come to Scotts Hill to see if this village would be a proper site for founding a secondary school.

Woodard Holmes and Henry Austin Sr., two old bachelors met this teacher and promised him the fullest co-operation in his efforts to start a school of higher learning at Scotts Hill.

Prof. Tucker began his work here in an old two-room building situated astride the Anderson-Decatur county line on the south side of the main street of the town. Here he worked a short while, with what he had, but the school soon outgrew its building, and was moved over to the place where the Tucker monument now stands.

A two-story four-room building was erected in the late nineties to house the growing institution, which was chartered under the name Scotts Hill College, with authority to confer college degrees of L.I. and B.S.

In 1903 B. A. Tucker had an attack of appendicitis which caused his death almost instantly, thus dying at an early age-40.

For the remainder of 1903-1904 his brother W.F. Tucker and his long-time associate and friend, J.C. Duck carried on the work of the college. But it seemed that Professor Tucker's death paralyzed the school and it went the way of most private schools. Later this school operated as a two-year high school with J.A. Bobbitt, Granville Bartolomew, J.C. Duck, J.M. Austin, Ira C. Powers and others serving as Principals and rendering valuable service. Then, in 1928 we became a four-year high school, fully accredited by the State, with P.H. Murphy, member of the present faculty as principal. Since that time these men have served as principals: Gordon H. Turner 1932-35 John S. Murray 1935-1939, J.O. Conwell 1939-1945. In the summer of 1945 J.B. Austin, who had been a member of the high school faculty for nine years was named to the principalship.

Junior Class History

In 1943 we entered high school. We were really important. We had brains that made the teachers feel that somewhere down the line they had been cheated.

There were forty-four poor timid girls and gangly over-grown boys. The upper classmates were always pushing us around and ## never letting us forget we were green Freshman.

We lost a few freshman that year. Some just couldn't take the algebra. A few let the "Love-Bug", bite them. Three left us for the armed forces.

When we entered our Sophomore year there were twenty-six of us left. Mary Ann and Dock stayed with us a few months and then eloped without asking ##us. Eugene and " " might have gone with them.

Eileen Creasy left us for a larger and more attractive school. Dot Mc/Kenzie thought she would try Decaturville awhile.

Jimmie Rogers came back from Henderson and made eighteen Juniors. Lucky for us, she made our ball team a stronger one.

This year has been our best one. We have more fun than any other class in school. We have fun studying Geometry. Louise and Francis say it is more fun than standing on the street corners of Lexington.

Here hoping our class has as much success and fun next year as the years before.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm".

Freshman Class History

We entered high school in 1945 with a class of 34 members. During our second week Peter and Charles entered bringing our total up to 36 members.

Matrimony deprived us of James Reeder shortly before Christmas and Shella left us during the summer for some unexplained reason. This brought our total back to 34. Just after mid-term we added Robert and Neva Sue bring us up to 36 again.

We are an unusual good class according to Mr. Murphy, especially the girls. Mr. Austin's opinion is that we are, "The best freshman class in years". We are all working hard to keep up this unusually good record, especially in Helen's tough subject of algebra and Kathleen's Science.

Here hoping we are successful in keeping the member in our class high, set a high standard for future Freshman Classes, keep the respect and admiration of our teachers and fellow students, all through school and graduate with high honors keeping them with us through our life.

Sophomore Class History

In July thirty-four shy, frighten freshman emerged into a new world--high school.

Initiation was a hilarious affair, so hilarious that it proved disastrous. Two of our boys dropped out as a result of wounds suffered from the battle (belt line).

Halloween was fun. We threw a party in style. Luck turned our way and a girl in our class reigned as queen. A blond-how did you guess it?

Finals were short and snappy, mostly snappy. Our class passed however with flying colors. I suppose you would say the year was a Freshman dream come true.

The summer of '45 was definitely exciting. We enjoyed the sweet revenge of initiating the class filling our former shoes as freshman.

Basketball season opened with a boom two of our girls and one boy played on first team. We have earned the name of being the best sports on this side of ---yea, Scott Hill.

Our class has now decreased to twenty-five due to circumstances unavoidable such as marriage, army, transferring, etc.

Silly now Silly ever,
Sophomores now but now forever (we hope).

S.H.H.S. BASKETBALL CLUBS

At the beginning of the basketball season our prospect for a victorious ball club, both girls and boys, was very dim after having lost the majority of the girls who were on the first team last year. The girls who played on the team this year had before had but little experience on the court. The girls club made unbelievable advancements. They won an average of 50 per cent of the games played. They lost the District Tournament playing against Lexington.

The boys club lost two of its first team players. It also had on record an average of 50 per cent of the games played. The boys lost the District Tournament playing against Parsons, who won the final game.

Both team's success has been largely due to the drilling and information given to them by their qualified and well experienced coach, Mr. Milam.

The school and teams are looking forward to the following year and expecting to have a higher percentage of games won, on record, than they had this year.

FRESHMAN CLASS INITIATION

The most important event of the freshman was their initiation. The boys and girls were initiated separately. The boys initiation lasted for a period of two days. The first day they were run through a belt-line; the second day the terrified boys appeared in strange costumes.

The girls initiation lasted only one day. They were dressed in comical costumes. The girls gave a program in chapel to the delight of the school.

At lunch the girls were served punch and cookies by the junior class.

The Reason We Come to School

Each day our teachers fill our brains
With history, algebra, geometry and things
Then about noon happily we go
Down to our cafeteria pictured below.

There Mrs. Flora, Ethel and Altie with ease
Feed us bread, beans, potatoes and peas.
We'll never stop eating this food so rare
If we should have more than a dime to spare.
